

Former NFL Player turned Real Estate Entrepreneur, Motivational Speaker and Author. Like many inner-city youth, Eli had dreams of becoming a professional athlete. He attended Temple University before entering the NFL. He played for 5 different NFL teams including the Green Bay Packers before suffering a career ending concussion. As devastating as this was, he didn't allow his injury to deter him from his ultimate goal of helping elevate the well-being of the members of his hometown of Hartford, CT. Today Eli is a Realtor at Weichert Realtors- The Zubretsky Group and remains heavily involved with Hartford Public Schools.